PROFILE

Daniel is a lawyer in DG LAW Business Law & Intellectual Property with five years of experience. He founded the firm in 2019 and focuses his core practice on corporate & intellectual property counseling start-ups and mid-corp. companies with regard to technology & digital issues arising in their respective businesses. Furthermore, advises in M&A operations and leads his clients through high-tech transactional operations.

Daniel has coordinated, leaded, and continues to regularly representing clients in both the traditional and new businesses within the intellectual property field in sectors such as electronics, software development, artificial intelligence, augmented reality, e-commerce, major entertainment events, advertising, sports, e-mobility, e-learning, gaming, gambling, blockchain & cryptocurrencies, music production and audiovisual production before regulatory bodies and courts in proceedings for the protection of trademarks, designs, copyright, trade secrets and other IP rights. Moreover, he has designed many privacy policies for international digital businesses managing personal & non personal data, conducted DPIAs and also stands for mid-corps. in relation with their data privacy strategy.

Daniel's advice extends to Corporate & M&A practice and transactional operations (beauty contests; spinouts; LBOs; credit facilities; SPAs; SHAs; Investment agreements, etc.). On top of that, he is specialized in drafting tech-related contracts, software agreements and IT product or service licenses.

Apart from his tech approach, Daniel has been working in securities operations for years. To be deeply involved in advising a mid-corp. company based in Asturias for successfully entering into the Alternative Stock Market (multilateral trading system) is considered as a milestone in his career.
